TO THE

PORTY FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, April 29.

SENATE.

The Com on Public Lands reported favorably on the bill to extend the railroad to the Pacific and the Oregon branch of the Pacific.

Mr Wilson introduced a bill providing for the construction of the military and naval academies.

The Senate concurred in the House resolution appropriating $3000 for the improvement of the harbor of the Capital.

The bill to incorporate the Boston and Washington Steamship Company and authorizing the issue of bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, was passed.

The bill to pay the claims of Cowan and Johnson of Kentucky, Tenn, was objected to by Mr. Trumbull, on the ground that it involved the principle whether the Government should pay for the cotton used by our army in creating fortifications.

Mr. Willey sustained the claim and said the Senate had just passed a precisely similar claim and the only reason for its rejection in the one case and its refusal in the other, was that one claimant lived in Missouri and the other in Tennessee.

Mr. Fowler stated that Dickinson, one of the claimants, publicly refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate Government.

Mr. Trumbull said that if the bill passed involved the same principle as that now pending, it was equally objectionable to him, and he would vote against it.

Mr. Logan of Ill. from the Com. on Military Affairs, made various reports of private character, including the following:

Adversely on bill permitting retired army and navy officers to hold civil offices, and adversely on petition of citizens of New York, for relief of Major General Robert Anderson, for the relief of the officers assigned to General Daniel Thompson's brigade, and must be in, was passed, the bill authorizing the Treasury accounting officers to allow to the army disbursing officers from the contingent fund of the rebellion, the amount of $1,000,000, for over payments and losses of funds, vouchers and property as far as they were reasonable and just, was recommended under the authority of the Sec. of War or by the head of the Military Bureau, to which such accounts pertain, was passed.

Mr. Schenck of Ohio, gave notice of a motion to adjourn from Thursday next to Monday, to allow time to take up the carpets, and the House then proceeded to the business of the day.

Mr. Sargent's amendments to a resolution providing for the sale of certain lands in the State of New York, were concurred in by the Senate.

The Senate bill granting 940,000 acres of public land in aid of the construction of the Portland and Astoria (Oregon) railroad was passed by Mr. Holman of Ind. He said there were now ninety bills pending, appropriating over two hundred million acres, that Government had already given away over eight million acres of public land for purposes of education, one hundred and eighty thousand acres to the State of Texas, for the purpose of raising cattle, and that at the present rate there would soon be no land left for homes and land, and pre-emption rights, for which over one hundred millions were taken last year.

Mr. Sargent—What prevents these men from going out to the West and occupying these public lands?

Mr. Holman—Are they not going at the rate of a million a year?

Mr. Sargent—They only go where the railroad has gone before.

Mr. Holman also read a joint resolution of the Ohio Legislature, instructing the Governor and Representatives to vote against the bill for grants of land to railroad corporations.

Mr. Root of Ark. remarked that if the Legislature which rejected the bill, the latter declared that the policy of railroad grants had been profitable of great national interest and but few abuses it was not the business of the Senate to interfere with it.

Mr. Holman moved to refer to the Committee on Public Lands being negatived, 75 to 27.

The House then took a recess.

At the evening session the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill.

After discussing several paragraphs the one relating to the duty on sugar was put to a vote and was carried by a majority of 150 to 100.
